

April 2, 2007

We are pleased to announce that Mar Cor Purification acquired the GE Water & Process Technologies Business (previously know as “Osmonics Medical Water & Dialysis”) on March 30, 2007. Mar Cor Purification is a full service water purification company with headquarters in Skippack, PA and manufacturing and services offices in 17 cities throughout the United States and Canada. Over the past 30 years, Mar Cor has developed a solid reputation in the dialysis business with a focus of providing quality service along with quality equipment. Our press release, as well as a comprehensive overview of Mar Cor’s capabilities can be found on our website at (www.mcpur.com).

As part of the transaction, Mar Cor will retain the associated employees within the business, and will be moving the manufacturing operations a short distance to our facility in Plymouth, MN, which is a licensed medical device manufacturing facility. We anticipate that the facility will be completed and ready to accommodate the move in 3-4 months and do not envision any disruptions to equipment deliveries, service or spare parts availability. GE will continue its ongoing relationship with Mar Cor as a supplier of key components including RO membrane elements, cartridge filters, membrane housings, pumps and other consumables.

What does this mean to you? Dialysis clinics are a major focus for our company with over 50% of our business dedicated to this segment. The combined organization has resulted in an expanded service network which will enable us, in many cases, to respond faster to your needs. Likewise, with this acquisition, you will have access to some new product lines, including the market proven 4400HX 510k water system that can be completely hot water disinfected.
